FOREWORD

Through this 1953 GREENBRIAR, we have endeavored to give you — each member of the student body — a means of easily bringing back to memory our year at Fuquay Springs High School in the years that will follow. We have tried to tie in all the little extra things that have made school mean what it has to us.

Ten years from now you will again flip through the pages of this annual. Then if the memories come pleasantly and quickly to you, we shall have accomplished our purpose.

We sincerely hope that this 1953 GREENBRIAR will ever remain a cherished possession of yours.

DEDICATION

Our 1953 annual is dedicated to one whom we truly love and respect. He has shown his faith in each student . . . the common sense that he never forsakes . . . his devotion to honesty . . . the high morals that guide him . . . his deep loyalty to our school . . . and a keen interest in people.

* * * * *

In sincere appreciation of the many years you have dedicated to the school by coaching the students in football, basketball, and baseball, by continuously teaching true sportsmanship, by taking a deep personal interest in each of us, to you,

We

The Senior Class

Dedicate the 1953 GREENBRIAR

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Freshmen! A word that brings back memories of utmost tortures and persecution at the hands of our hated superiors, Sophomores and Juniors. But the Seniors whom we idolized consoled us. Despite these circumstances Eleanor Clark and Jeanette Saunders managed to help out with the school operetta. The girls turned out in great number for the basketball team. Carolyn Pritchett, Barbara Thomas, Helen Rowland, Gloria Pearce, Peggy Guthrie, and Shirley Sherron made up the majority of the squad. The boys had not matured as rapidly as the girls and their sports activities were confined mostly to Mr. Weede's health classes. Most of them went in for the less hazardous sports, such as ping pong and badminton. By the spring of the school year, however, Mickey Smith, Buck Adcock, Glenn Powell, Ben Bennett, Henry Lawrence, and Marshall Currin managed to make the baseball team. Nancy Tilley, Carlyle Page, and Marshall Currin, Latin students, said Latin made them dizzy. Mrs. Haddock said they made her dizzy.

Ah, ha, Sophomores! We fiendishly rubbed our hands as the Freshmen paraded past. On F. F. A. and F. H. A. initiation night, Betty Lou Coats, Phyllis Jones, Frances Clark, Roy Morton, Thomas Coats, and Buck Rowland gleefully explained to some of the cringing Freshmen how to shampoo their hair in flour and water. Mickey Smith and Jimmy Norris earned their letters in basketball. We were proud of Roy Morton, Peggy Kesler, and Frances Clark for their outstanding work on the Student Council. Peggy Kesler was elected Secretary of this organization. The F. H. A. girls and F. F. A. boys attended Tom Brown's Camp. The Sophomore class was very well represented. Nancy Tilley, Virginia Aiken, and Allie Mae Hester seemed to have a very good time.

Our Junior year was filled with many happy events. Twenty-one members of our class earned Beta Club membership and were duly initiated. Glenda Ferrell served as a very capable Beta Club secretary. Thomas Coats, Marshall Currin, and Proctor Taylor, dependable bus drivers, won safety awards. The Junior Class basketball players contributed to the winning of the Western division of the Wake County Championship. The baseball players won their second consecutive County Championship. Glenn Powell led the team in batting percentage. The football team won their fifth consecutive Wake County Championship. Stars of the football team were Charles Garrison, Buck Adcock, and Glenn Powell. The Junior play, "Our Town," under the direction of Miss Vivian Burton, was a great success. Charles Parker certainly proved his acting ability. That the Junior-Senior Banquet with the theme of "Under the Sea" was worth all the time and effort spent in making it a great success was finally agreed.

It was hard, but we finally became accustomed to our new title, Seniors. Our class, however, was not quite the same. Louise Lee, Shirley Duke, Gerry Stephenson, Melba Smith, Marilyn Griffin, Betty Jo Myatt, Doris Stephenson, and Dorothy Stephenson had decided that married life would be more interesting than school, so we had to do our best without them. Nancy Cooke, our well-remembered Junior Class president, was also mourned. She had found it necessary to go to Greensboro to finish school. Despite the loss of our friends it was a thrilling experience to show our class rings to the underclassmen and to exchange calling cards with classmates. Eleanor Clark again led the cheerleaders for her fourth year. Betty Lou Coats, Frances Clark, and Jeanette Saunders also wished to support their school teams. They decided they could do their best by being cheerleaders, so Mrs. Council decided that since their ambition was so great they could try. Much to the amazement of many they became cheerleaders. Jean Myatt was chosen as the football Sponsor at the home-coming game with Apex. Our Senior class officers were Jimmy Bowling, President; Jean Myatt, Vice-President; Golda Ferrell, Secretary, and Allie Hester, Treasurer. Allie Mae made such a good Junior Class Treasurer that we decided to let her handle all our money henceforth. Mickey Smith was elected as President of the Student Council, so Mr. Farnell gave him the responsibility of preparing assembly programs. Eleanor Clark continued to display musical talent at the piano in chapel, Glee Club, and all other programs which needed her assistance.

Although our four years at Fuquay High have drawn to a close, the many happy experiences and acquaintances shared there will remain a part of us forever. We, the Senior Class of '53, wish to express our gratitude to the faculty and our fellow students for helping us get the most out of our days spent in Fuquay High School.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

April 5, 1963

How can it be that so many wonderful things could have happened to the 1953 seniors of Fuquay High in just ten short years! Every single member is prospering and seems happy.

Carlyle Page's ambition to become a doctor is now a reality. He, his two nurses, Pearl Jones and Peggy Kesler, and his receptionist, Pansy Myatt, are quite popular with all the patients.

Directly across the street in Fuquay from the doctor's office is Phyllis Jones' exquisite beauty salon. Among her employees as skilled beauticians are Maxine Adams, Helen Rowland, and Rhuteen Adams. The business is so large that a secretary is necessary to arrange appointments. She is Doris Moore, another classmate.

Shirley Sherron, once President of the Future Teachers Club, is now struggling with her fifth graders in an attempt to explain fractions to them. Who would have ever thought, however, that Hugh Thompson would become Fuquay's silent but firm principal, or that little Jeannette Saunders would now be mixing chemicals in the school laboratory for her high school students?

Harold Honeycutt still cruises around Fuquay in his Olds—but now a new 1963 model. A beauty! Although he knows every part of it, he often lets the best mechanic in town, Charles Garrison, check it over.

Roy Morton now has another beef cow along with a very good tobacco farm and a 1963 Chevrolet. Herman Taylor is without the cow, but has quite a profitable little farm. Both take their profits to the new banker, Charles Parker.

Two working pleasantly at the telephone switchboard are Virginia Aiken and Frances Wood.

Among those who have traveled far from the old home town are Gloria Pearce and Nancy Tilley. Both are world known for their unsurpassed voices. Patsy Walters has become the most widely read poet in America. Equally famous, though, are Polly Prince, now a much sought cover girl, and Carolyn Prichett, a New York model who specializes in modeling formal gowns.

Three other members of the 1953 class are in New York. Sue Wood and Annie Margaret Prince have become Macy's best two sales-ladies, while Jimmy Bowling remains Lord and Taylor's efficient manager.

In the capitol of our nation, Jimmy Norris now occupies the White House. His body guard is none other than J. W. Mangum. Among the cabinet members are Allie Mae Hester as Secretary of the Treasury and Buck Rowland as Secretary of Agriculture. In the Senate is James Wortham, while David Brown spreads his influence in the House. Closest to the President, however, is wise Joseph Carter, as the Chief Adviser to the President.

While speaking of the government, the Governor of North Carolina is now none other than Buck Adcock. Governor Adcock's secretary is an old classmate, Gerold Goodwin. Back in Fuquay, the Mayor is now the outstanding Mickey Smith.

Two lawyers came from that worthy class ten years ago. Wayland Honeycutt now practices in Charlotte, but Marshall Currin has a rising firm in the home town. Eva Dupree is Lawyer Currin's capable secretary.

Speaking of secretaries, Golda and Glenda Ferrell, twins of the class, took a secretarial course and liked it so much they decided to continue their studies. Now they own their own secretarial school. Some of their school mates, among whom were Louise Eakes, Marie Jordan, and Ernestine Holleman, are taking additional courses there to better enable them in the business field.

Far away in India is Delphia Carter. Always with her purpose in mind, she graduated from college and went off to be a foreign missionary.

The old original team in school, Hallie Guy and Betty Coats, are now the same, except, of course, for starring in the biggest television show produced in New York. Barbara Thomas has become the greatest dramatic actress in America, while Ben Bennett has become the dream of every American teen-ager as the handsome hero of the movies. Top acting in Hollywood is credited to Thomas Coats (the shiny new Oscar proves it).

Tops in the musical field is Eleanor Clark, whose nimble fingers have led her to fame as a concert pianist. She is in demand to such an extent that her manager, Wilma Myatt, is constantly on the run.

Some of those young baseball players in Fuquay, such as Henry Lawrence and Glenn Powell, have turned professional. Unbelievable contracts literally float around them. Wonder if they will stick to their present team or sign one of those tempting contracts?

Uncle Sam called quite a few of the boys soon after graduation. Some decided to stay and make a career of it. Major Proctor Taylor, Major Joel Smith, Colonel Eugene Holleman, and General Frederick Harvell proved to be brilliant and capable military leaders.

Among the many of the class who have taken the vows of matrimony are Frances Clark, Peggy Guthrie, and Mary Ree Dickens. All are happily caring for their families and homes.

As we look back over the past short ten years, it hardly seems possible that every single member of that 1953 class could achieve such success and happiness in such a little while!

After several months of planning, searching for ideas, picture-taking, typing, and just plain hard work, the 1953 edition of the GREENBRIAR was complete. The work was over, but we felt that the fun was over, too.

Truly, it had been fun! We shall never forget the nights we worked together, keeping the typewriter busy, drawing ads, labeling pictures, and all the other things that are necessary to complete a yearbook. Nor will the many afternoons spent in selling ads easily slip from memory.

When it was finally finished, we felt relieved, and yet, we missed it, too. But now it's back to remind us all, now and in the future, of our happy years at Fuquay High.

ADVERTISING STAFF

The Student Council is, as it should be, the largest cog in our wheel of organizations. It is active as it is responsible for the election of the officers from the various clubs.

The election took place in the fall. Students were required to file for office, register, and vote by secret ballot in regular voting booths which were borrowed from the town. Campaign speeches were given by worthy campaign managers and many posters, indicating whom to vote for, could be seen up and down the halls. This project proved to be enjoyable as well as educational to the student body.

In order to make our school a cleaner and quieter place to study, the Student Council undertook with the aid of one of Miss Thompson's history classes to make posters to put in the halls. These posters were used to remind students to keep their voices down and feet away from the walls.

Since the number of teachers we obtain next year depends upon the attendance of the students this year, the Student Council took an active part in encouraging students to be at school every day that is possible.

One of the most important projects for the year was the planning and the carrying out of our weekly chapel programs. It was the plan of the Student Council to have a variety of programs which proved to be educational as well as enjoyable to the students.

This sixth year of the Student Council at Fuquay has really been up to par due to the capable adviser, Miss Jessie Thompson, and the alert officers.

BETA CLUB

The purpose of the Beta Club is to promote the ideals of honesty, service, and leadership among the high school students of America, to reward meritorious achievement, and to encourage and assist students to continue their education after high school.

This club is made up solely of Juniors and Seniors, who have passed the qualifications for membership, which are good mentality and character, creditable achievement, and commendable attitude.

This year the Beta Club has sold Readers' Digest for the purpose of raising money to endeavor in some way to improve our school.

Last year the club donated lighting equipment for the stage. This equipment is used for dramatic entertainment and school programs.

GLEE CLUB

A new feature added to the high school curriculum this year was the Glee Club. Each day, a period was set aside for the teaching of Glee Club, just as any subject is taught. This enabled Mr. Benson, the director, to accomplish more with the group. There were fifty-six students in the choral group who were there entirely of their own will. They worked hard during this one hour, and learned how to breathe and stand correctly while singing.

The Glee Club made their first public appearance at the Finer Carolina Program. Although Mr. Benson felt that the Glee Club needed more practice, he agreed to let them sing two songs since the townspeople were very anxious for them to perform.

For their second appearance the Glee Club participated in National Education Week by riding on a float in the parade and singing at intervals along the way.

Weeks of practice followed. Tape recordings were made and played back to the group so they could hear their mistakes. This proved to be an important factor, and by the time for the Christmas Concert, they were fully prepared. A program of formal music was presented on December 17. The public responded wonderfully and asked for more music of that kind in the near future. To satisfy their requests, a spring concert was given. Working for these concerts was hard work, but the Glee Club co-operated and fully enjoyed the praise they received afterwards for their fine singing. They proved that even though you don't have an outstanding voice—you can sing if you try.

The Glee Club had officers to tend to any business or problems which arose. They were: President, Eleanor Clark; Vice-President, Delphia Carter; and Secretary-treasurer, Eleanor Van Hook.

The singing of the Glee Club was ended for the year by rendering numbers at the Commencement exercises as a farewell to the graduating Senior Class.

In looking over our school year we find many improvements. We consider our band to be the most outstanding one. An increase from 25 to 40 pieces is certainly a big leap over last year. Because of the many students interested in taking band, it was necessary to form two bands—junior and senior.

The senior band in particular has taken an active part in many school activities. Having the school band to take part in our football games by playing and marching, broadened school spirit among the students. They also did this by playing at pep rallies.

During American Education Week a parade was formed by the various clubs and organizations in high school. The members of the band certainly felt the results of the parade having marched from the ballpark uptown and back again. However, we can truthfully say that this had no effect on their ability and determination to bring forth those harmonious notes.

We trust that the greatest achievement for the year was definitely the Christmas Concert.

Under the direction of Edward Benson, we are looking forward to an even greater improvement next year.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club is an organization of senior students studying dramatics. The purpose of this club is to create and extend throughout the school and community higher standards of dramatic appreciation.

The first play presented by the Dramatics Club was "Rip Van Winkle." This will always be remembered as one of the hi-lights of the senior year. The cast of "Rip Van Winkle" pride themselves in the fact that they designed and made the costumes themselves. These costumes were shown in a window display during American Education Week.

As well as casting, directing, and producing plays, the plans for the Little Theatre were drawn up by the Dramatics Club. The theatre, consisting of a sound-proof radio room, projector room, two dressing rooms, supply room and a small stage, has proved to be very helpful to the Dramatics Club as well as to the entire school.

Speech choir is another important achievement of the Dramatics Club. During Christmas a program of various selections was given by the speech choir. This was entirely new to the student body but was accepted by all.

Courses in make-up, lighting, and scenery were studied during the year under the direction of Miss Vivian Burton. These proved helpful in the production of other plays.

As Rip Van Winkle said, and we quote, "Here's to your good health and your families and may they live l-o-n-g and prosper!"

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club of Fuquay Springs High School was re-organized in the fall under the sponsorship of Miss Gladys Dees and Mr. Howard Cayton. A constitution was drawn up by a committee and the temporary chairman, Roy Morton. The requirements set up by the constitution allowed the following to be eligible for membership: boys and girls who have participated in a sport for one season; girls or boys who have been a cheerleader for one year; and managers who have served one year.

The purposes and aims of the club are for high ideals, including sportsmanship, fair play, and honesty.

The club sponsored many outstanding projects during the year. The donkey baseball game, which offered much amusement and excitement, proved to be a challenge to the boys who attempted to ride the donkeys. Operating the stands for all athletic contests was not a burden to any, since all members participated. One of the biggest projects for the year was the Home-coming Game and Dance at which all the of the football players were recognized and given corsages. For this occasion the football players elected Wilma Jane Myatt as their Home-coming Queen.

The Monogram Club ended the season by recognizing the athletes with letters and sweaters.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

The Future Teachers' Club of Fuquay High was organized in 1951 by students interested in the teaching profession. The club was named The William E. Fleming Club in memory of our late principal.

The purpose of the F. T. A. clubs in high schools is exploratory, pre-vocational, and pre-professional. Through F. T. A. projects, students learn the opportunities in teaching, cultivate the character qualities essential to a good teacher, study the lives of great teachers, and foster the development of student teaching.

The Future Teachers this year have learned some of the opportunities in teaching by taking an active part in observing classes and substituting for some of the teachers.

BUS DRIVERS AND SUBSTITUTES

The Future Homemakers have been happy and busy in their work and play. Some of the important events this year were:

1. Enjoying camp life at White Lake.
2. Taking part in the initiation of 48 new members.
3. Entertaining the participants of the District Junior Cattle Show with a square dance in the school gym.
4. Observing American Education Week by arranging a float and an exhibit—The theme for the float was "Promoting International Good Will."
5. Worshipping together at the F.H.A. Church Service at the Methodist Church.
6. Sending gifts overseas for the World Christmas festival.
7. Attending the county, district, and state rallies.
8. Planning and enjoying our Mother-Daughter and Father-Son dinner in the school cafeteria.
9. Enjoying square dances when the schedule permitted.

These events hold many happy memories. We are looking forward to a bigger and better year in 1953-54.

F. F. A. ACTIVITIES

The primary aim of the Future Farmers of America is the development of agricultural leadership, co-operation, and citizenship.

Early in September the Freshmen were given their expected initiation. They were all afraid of what might happen, but nothing too drastic did. Everyone seemed to enjoy the occasion very much. The Greenhands began the year successfully.

In November, co-operating with National Education Week, the Future Farmers erected a float displaying some of the projects the boys had made in the shop. The officers of the club were also on the float. This was a fine way of showing the community the progress that had been made.

The Future Farmers and the Future Homemakers had square dancing as their main recreation program. The two clubs usually had good attendance at these activities. The clubs also looked forward to the Mother and Daughter-Father and Son Banquet which is an annual event. Each club acts out an enjoyable skit during the program.

Some projects which were made in the shop this year were for the growth of the school and community. A portable stand was made for the Glee Club to stand upon while performing. A cabinet for the kitchen of one of our local churches was also built. As projects in the shop, the boys have made mail box posts, cedar chests, end tables, and many repair jobs.

During the year the Future Farmers entered in many contests. Some of these contests were Crops, Tool Identification, Live Stock Judging, Public Speaking, Parliamentary Procedure and many others. The club benefitted very much by these contests.

The boys will be looking forward to going to camps this summer at either Tom Brown or White Lake, which shall end a successful year for the Future Farmers.

THE HUDDLE

In the opening of the 1952 season, the Fuquay Falcons met Raleigh High School, which belongs to the superior Class AAA, on September 5 at Riddick Stadium. The Falcons bowed to the strong Capitals, 26-0.

The following game was with a strong Massey Hill team who defeated the fighting falcons 32-0.

Then came Garner. The Garner team managed to slip by the Falcons by a slim score of 7-6.

On October 3, the Falcons again went down in defeat to the Red Raiders from Methodist Orphanage in a hard fought game by a score of 6-0.

The next Friday Coach Council's Falcons went to Erwin to meet one of their biggest rivals. In the last four minutes Erwin scored a second touchdown to win the game 14-7.

For their next game Fuquay went to Wendell for a real thriller. Jimmy Norris and Glenn Powell contributed the two touchdowns for the great victory. The score ended 12-0.

Next the Falcons went to Hillsboro to meet their strong eleven. The Falcons went down in defeat 33-18.

On November 7 the home-coming was celebrated with a battle with Apex and a dance afterwards. The fighting Falcons defeated the strong Apex eleven 20-0.

The next Friday Fuquay met a strong team from Selma who defeated Fuquay in a real thriller 13-12.

On November 26 Fuquay journeyed to Cary to meet the strong Cary team for the Wake County Championship. The fighting Falcons lost to Cary for the first time in five years by a score of 53-13.

THERE'S SOMETHING ELSE . . .

Well, the GREENBRIAR is finished, but before you close the book, let us mention a few people who helped make it possible.

To Mr. and Mrs. Roy Talley we express our appreciation for allowing us the complete freedom of using their home and grounds to make our superlative pictures. We appreciate their kindness in helping us. Our thanks are also extended to Mrs. Myrtle Hopson, whose beautiful kitchen we used in one of the more important pictures, and Mr. Woodrow Johnston, whose property we used as the background in the Most Original Superlative picture.

We could not overlook all the teachers and our principal, Mr. E. N. Farnell. Each and every one has been patient, helpful, and understanding in connection with our work on the annual. They were always ready to help us with any problem that arose.

To one teacher we owe our special thanks. She is our adviser, Miss Dorothy Raynor. She was always there to offer helpful suggestions and guidance throughout the time we worked on the annual.

Without the backing of the merchants of Fuquay-Varina and the surrounding area, our annual would never have been a reality. Our thanks are extended to them also.

Our little note of appreciation would not be complete without expressing our gratitude to Mr. R. A. Hunter, Jr. of Hunter's Yearbook Service. He proved a thoughtful and patient photographer. It is through his skill that such an outstanding job was done on printing the annual.

To each and every student who helped further the progress of the yearbook, we say a sincere "thank you"!

The 1953 GREENBRIAR is yours now—but remember all the people we have mentioned as you enjoy it, and realize that without their help we could not have this book now.
